Brothers from around the world are with you today as you launch the spirit of the Black Men's Gathering in your land. We celebrate the courage you demonstrate to come together and to focus your energies on the potent contributions people of African descent can make to the establishment of a new world civilization. Yours is a unique opportunity to explore pathways of service to humankind inviting all to embrace the principle of the oneness of humanity and the unity of all peoples.

The men of the Gathering surround you with admiring thoughts and firm resolve filled with encouragement for your success. Brothers of the BMG New Jersey in the United States also gather this weekend and together we know you will attract divine blessings.

We will also pray for you here in Wilmette at the Bahá'í House of Worship and look forward to hearing from you.

With warmest greetings,

Dr. William Roberts
